COVID-19 Vaccine Incentives

NYC residents receiving their first COVID-19 vaccine are now eligible for a $100 bonus while the program lasts! That means if you get the vaccine, you can also get $100. Even better, if you mention you were referred by the Center for Independence of the Disabled in New York (be sure to use our full name), we'll also get $100 to put towards helping people with disabilities! You can select our name when making your appointment at <https://vax4nyc.nyc.gov/patient/s/>.

If you cannot leave your home, you can make a homebound vaccine appointment at <https://forms.cityofnewyork.us/f/home> or call 877-829-4692.

If you need help scheduling an appointment or have any questions or needs related to COVID-19, please call us at 917-810-2565.

A Statement on the Supreme Court's Eviction Moratorium Ruling

CIDNY was disheartened to hear the United States Supreme Court's decision to end the federal eviction moratorium during a pandemic. The pandemic is not over. The housing crisis is not over. People with disabilities are disproportionately affected by housing issues, income equality, and employment. As the Delta variant spreads and we move into the fall season, ending the eviction moratorium is cruel and a potential disaster. We urge you to contact your local representatives (you can find how to do that at <http://www.usa.gov/elected-officials>) and make your voice heard.

For those seeking rental assistance, you can apply online at <https://nysrenthelp.otda.ny.gov/en/> or by calling 1-844-691-7368. Please reach out to CIDNY if you need help.

This statement can be viewed on our website at <https://www.cidny.org/a-statement-on-the-supreme-courts-eviction-moratorium-ruling/>.

A Statement on the John Lewis Voting Rights Act

CIDNY applauds the United States House of Representatives on passing the John Lewis Voting Rights Act. For far too long, people with disabilities, along with other groups, have been discriminated against and faced barriers to voting. Every eligible voter should have the ability to easily cast their votes and have the confidence that their vote will be counted. It is a right and one that has trampled for far too long. CIDNY urges the Senate to pass this key initiative and ensure protections for all voters.

This statement can be viewed on our website at <https://www.cidny.org/a-statement-on-the-john-lewis-voting-rights-act/>.

CIDNY's Action Network Meeting – Virtual Roundtable

Join us on September 15, 2021 at 1:00 p.m. for our monthly CAN to hear about your voting rights as we prepare for National Disability Voter Registration Week and why it is important to vote in the upcoming elections. We want to hear about your voting experience and how we can work towards removing the barriers. REMEMBER: Your experiences help our advocacy efforts.

Please RSVP by calling Myat Suu Yi at 212 674-2300 or by sending an email to msyi@cidny.org and we will send you a link to the Zoom meeting closer to the date.

Join the conversation: online at www.cidny.org; on Facebook (www.facebook.com/CIDNYInc), on Twitter (@CID_NY) and IG (@cid_ny)

Online Education Workshops and Events

For the month of September 2021, CIDNY will be presenting the workshops and events below. All workshops for the time being will be presented online, with captioning, as well as other accommodations upon request. The workshops may also be recorded for future use in communications materials, websites, and for other purposes by CIDNY.

Accessibility Initiatives within the New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission (TLC)

Wednesday, September 8, 2021 from 1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Guests from the NYC Taxi and Limousine Commission (TLC), the city agency that oversees yellow and green taxis, black cars, apps such as Uber and Lyft, and the drivers who drive these vehicles, will come talk to us about their new accessibility initiatives and Office of Inclusion. Topics will include new accessibility rules which require car services to provide wheelchair-accessible vehicles, the Accessible Dispatch program, and what to do if you are refused service in New York City.
