Home Care Threatened by NYC Council Legislation

A bill is being considered by the NYC Council that would throw chaos into the home care system and could jeopardize CIDNY's mission to ensure that people with disabilities receive the services and support they need to live independently in the community instead of institutions like nursing facilities. It would penalize home care employers who employ home care workers for more than a 12-hour shift and for more than 50 hours in a week.

There are over 17,000 New Yorkers who have a Medicaid authorization for “live-in” care for which the worker is paid for 13 hours. We don’t know what would happen to these New Yorkers and others should this legislation pass. You can learn more about this legislation through this Homecare Under Attack by Int 0175 webinar online at <https://youtu.be/iSXcYzYDt6s>.

The Council will hold a hearing on this legislation on September 6, 2022 at 1 p.m. You can sign up to testify in person or virtually by clicking here. CIDNY is joining a noon press conference and rally in front of City Hall to demonstrate to our elected officials that this legislation is not a solution. Sign up for the rally on Tuesday, September 6, 2022 from 12 p.m. to 1 p.m. in front of City Hall by clicking here.

COVID-19 Vaccines, Tests, and Information

CIDNY has been working with groups like the Disability Vaccine Access Opportunities Center (DVAO Center) to help make sure we’re all staying safe and have the correct information about COVID-19 and vaccines. If you need help getting the first vaccine or a booster, making an appointment, or just have questions about the vaccine and what you’ve heard, reach out to us.

The free at-home COVID-19 test program is scheduled to end on September 2, 2022. This does not include the accessible tests for people who are blind or low-vision, which will continue until supplies are exhausted. You can request those test at <https://special.usps.com/testkits/accessible> or by calling 1-800-232-0233.

If you would like to schedule a vaccine appointment, visit vaccinefinder.nyc.gov or call 877-829-4692.
